

If this is marked with a blue pencil, it shows that your subscription is due, (or will be at the end of this month) and must be paid at once or your Avalanche will be stopped.

Crawford Avalanche

OSCAR P. SCHUMANN, Editor and Proprietor

JUSTICE AND RIGHT

VOLUME XLVIII

TROOPS OPEN CAMP AUGUST 7

MAL-GEN. WILSON EXPECTS TO HAVE 5,000 MEN IN TRAINING HERE THIS YEAR

In two weeks Michigan troops again will be on the march for the state encampment at Grayling, where for 20 days or more they will undergo annual intensive training.

War department orders received recently by Major-General Guy M. Wilson, commander of the thirty-second division, staff officers and regimental commanders, direct that the camp shall open August 7. From that day until the entire Michigan National Guard is under canvas on the shores of Lake Margrethe, approximately 1,000 men a day will detract at the Grayling military siding. It is estimated more than 5,000 will be mustered.

General Staff Personnel

Major-General Wilson will command the camp. On the general staff are Colonel John Bersey, adjutant general; Lieutenant-Colonel LeRoy Pearson, chief of staff; Lieutenant-Colonel Samuel D. Pepper, judge advocate; Lieutenant-Colonel Glenn B. Arnold, chief signal officer; Lieutenant-Colonel James Sinke, personnel officer; Lieutenant-Colonel John H. Steck, plans and training officer; and Lieutenant-Colonel O. H. Tower, finance officer.

Troops have been preparing for the event with more than usual activity. Recruiting is on in all army stations throughout the state and nearly all Detroit units are up to full strength. The 182nd field artillery, under Colonel Heinrich A. Pickert, this year will undertake one of the most ambitious projects in the history of the Michigan National Guard. Under full equipment and at full strength the "million dollar" artillery will march from Detroit to Grayling, a distance of approximately 200 miles.

The train of the unit will be more than a mile in length and will comprise four batteries of 155-millimeter howitzers and a headquarters battery. The big guns will be hauled the distance by tractors, while other rolling equipment of the regiment includes trucks, observation cars, automobiles and motorcycles. The entire outfit is motorized.

The two Michigan infantry are veteran war units of the thirty-second division. Last year one of the features of the encampment was the ceremony at which the colors of the 126th were decorated with the croix de guerre.

Troop B, of the 106th cavalry, which last year was pronounced one of the most proficient cavalry units in the country, will enter 1926 training with a crack organization. This year and headquarters of the 106th are from Detroit. The cavalry regiment is commanded by Major Harold Repper of Royal Oak.

Like the artillery, the cavalry this year will undertake a trek to the northern encampment. The regiment will assemble at Alma, Mich., the home of Troop C, and from there will go to Grayling. Troop A, of South Haven, will transport horses and men from their home station to Alma by train.

The 107th medical regiment is recruited to full strength and will be entrained August 6, according to an announcement by Colonel John D. Buckley, commanding officer. A customary part of the annual training of this unit is the establishment, maintenance and operation of the camp hospital. The work handled at the hospital is equivalent to that of any similar institution in a city of 6,000 people. All camp sick and accident cases are cared for there.

Established Milk Clinic

Besides routine work, the 107th medical regiment last year established a clinic at which all milk entering the encampment was tested daily. Problems of water medication, which have been solved effectively, and other health measures are a part of the work of the regiment through the accomplishment of which its personnel becomes trained in medical practice as it pertains to the armies in the field.

Juicy Steaks

A nice juicy Steak is prepared quickly and is quite the favorite dish in warm weather.

We take pride in the quality of our Steaks.

Don't forget to order some of the delicious

Mary Jane Cottage Cheese.

It is the finest you ever tasted. Fresh every day.

Burrows' Market

Phone No. 2

The regiment is officered by leading physicians and surgeons of Detroit.

Nearly every large city of the state will be represented at the encampment. The 126th infantry, with headquarters at Grand Rapids, draws its troops from cities and towns throughout the west and north central parts of the state. The regiment is commanded by Colonel Campbell.

From Lansing last year, the 119th field artillery, under Colonel Joseph Lewis, trekked into camp after a forced march over a greater part of the distance.

Ambulance units, machine gun battalions, the signal corps, which hails from Ypsilanti, headquarters troops and other organizations which go to make up a division, were included in the general order for the encampment. All will go through the annual training at Grayling which has made the Michigan National Guard an effective military unit.

Following the promotion of Brig.-Gen. Wilson to Major-General, likewise Colonel Scouter has been advanced to the rank of Brig.-General. The first to arrive will be the advance units, the earliest of these beginning to reach camp at 7:45 a.m., August 2. Others will arrive August 3rd, 4th and 6th, respectively.

The 182nd field artillery of Detroit, under command of Colonel Pickert, will motor to camp via Watertord, Clio, Midland, Gladwin and Roscommon, spending Sunday at Roscommon.

The 119th, that last year trekked to camp from Sterling, this year will arrive in train August 5th.

One squadron of Detroit and Troop A, South Haven, 106th cavalry will go to Alma by train and from there will go to Camp Grayling, via Alma, Shepherd, Rosebush, Harrison, Houghton Lake and Roscommon, spending Sunday in Harrison.

Other units and detachments will drive via train.

O.C. CABIN OFFICE BUILDING OF E. M. T. DEDICATED BY OFFICERS

The log cabin which will house the administrative offices of the Eastern Michigan Tourist association and the Michigan Tourist association and the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau at Bay City has been dedicated.

The ceremony took place Tuesday afternoon, July 26, in a searching sun. Members of the executive committee of the tourist association and the board of directors of the development bureau to the number of 200 took part in the ceremony.

The ceremony took place Tuesday afternoon, July 26, in a searching sun. Members of the executive committee of the tourist association and the board of directors of the development bureau to the number of 200 took part in the ceremony.

Those officers of the two organizations who were present were the presidents of the Rotary club at lunch on Tuesday. Following the luncheon a short business session was held.

At this meeting, two officers were were invited to each association. The name of Marion H. Wheeler, secretary of the Mount Clemens board of commerce, was substituted for a rotting name on the board of directors of the East Michigan Tourist association and the name of H. H. Stickford of Oregon was added to the executive committee of the development bureau.

At the business meeting September 18 and 19 were set as the dates for the three-day annual forestry excursion which will be held under the auspices of the East Michigan Tourist association in co-operation with the Michigan Department of Conservation. Colonel W. B. Greely of the department is in charge of the 107th medical regiment is recruited to full strength and will be entrained August 6, according to an announcement by Colonel John D. Buckley, commanding officer. A customary part of the annual training of this unit is the establishment, maintenance and operation of the camp hospital.

The work handled at the hospital is equivalent to that of any similar institution in a city of 6,000 people. All camp sick and accident cases are cared for there.

Established Milk Clinic

Besides routine work, the 107th medical regiment last year established a clinic at which all milk entering the encampment was tested daily. Problems of water medication, which have been solved effectively, and other health measures are a part of the work of the regiment through the accomplishment of which its personnel becomes trained in medical practice as it pertains to the armies in the field.

18

The City Cousin

Local News

POINCARE RULE IS FAVORED BY FRENCH

New Cabinet Is Regarded as Competent to Solve Financial Problems.

Washington.—American tourists should remain out of France, if the outbreaks against them and against the United States continue, according to Senator David C. Wedel of Pennsylvania. Senator Wedel in effect would have American tourists leave the time being unless outbreaks halt.

Paris.—The name of Raymond Poincare is on the lips of almost every Frenchman. Literally the entire nation breathed a deep sigh of relief at the news that one of the most dangerous national crises in the history of the country had definitely passed with the formation of a National Union ministry, headed by the distinguished ex-president of the republic.

The political effervescence and ominous civic unrest which began with the crash of the Brind'Ulfau ministry, a few days ago, and the precipitate fall of the frame which followed the political maneuver that swept in and swept out Herrriot, are gone.

Mr. Poineau, who has succeeded in welding the political parties into a solid crusade against national bank ruin, received President Doumergue's benediction in his threefold responsibility as premier, minister of finance and minister of the liberation.

Excluded from his ministry are the pure radicals of the right and left,

despite the fact that he sought their collaboration even urging the brilliant

Socialist deputy, Paul Boncour, to take a short business trip.

The families of William Charles

McCullough are camping at Portage.

Mrs. C. L. Jerome and Miss Williamson spent a few days at Mackinac

Island last week.

Mrs. Charles Tromble and Miss

Ethel took in the excursion to Cheboygan last Sunday.

Red raspberries are coming into the market and are reported to be a large crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mantz of Lewiston stopped over one train on their return from Milwaukee last week.

Mrs. H. E. Hilliker and Mrs. Lucy

Bradshaw of Bay City, mother and sister of Mrs. T. A. Carney came up for a little visit Monday. They go from here to Mackinac.

The masons are started on the second story of the jail and the sheriff's residence, the brick work of which will be about completed this week, if it don't rain.

K. Hanson can be credited with laying the first cement walk at Graying and his example is being followed by N. P. Olson and N. Michelson.

Ambrose Cross has closed out his business at Millersburg and returned to Grayling, the best town in the Branch Herald Times.

The particulars of the death of

Alonzo Purchase at Minneapolis last week have been received. He was switching in the yard and his right foot caught in the frog throwing him onto the track so that his right leg was cut in two.

The courthouse is about ready for the corner-stone which is on the ground. We do not hear that it will be laid with any imposing ceremony,

and have not heard what the committee have decided to enclose in its vaunt. We would suggest in addition to the usual official documents that the several civic societies, by their secretaries, furnish a list of their officers and members at this date.

F. Peck took a load of our people out to Portage Lake to attend the special services at Glinnebaugh's mill

last Friday evening.

Principal Events In Grayling 25 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 25 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, August 1, 1901
Julius Kramer returned from New York Tuesday.

Mr. Wm. Woodburn returned from West Branch Tuesday.

Mrs. A. J. Rose has been spending a few days in Gaylord.

R. Meyers left for Chicago and the river Saturday, returning in time for business Monday morning. We have not heard any fish stories but all report an elegant time.

Mrs. Rolla Brink and the baby went to the old home at Bay Port last week for a visit.

Joseph Burton has made his residence bright as new with fresh paint.

County Clerk Cannon and family are taking a little vacation on Portage Lake.

Miss L. E. Williams went to Detroit and Tekonka Tuesday for a short business trip.

The families of William Charles and George McCullough are camping at the Benedict school house in Beaver Creek Saturday evening. July 25.

Mrs. C. L. Jerome and Miss William Parker, president; George A. Belmore, vice president; Miss Vena Benetton, editor, secretary.

The Hanson Lumber Company, successor to R. O. Crump & Sons, is very busy making changes toward greater perfection in the factory. The new machine is sent on several of the old heads, mechanics, in the confidence of the head of the company, and while no information is being given out, there is an impression on board of our old heads that the new people are going to make the large establishment hum as it never hummed before and that every possible encouragement ought to be given to them to make the already extensive plant one of the greatest in the state.

Judge Sharpe will go into the convention with more delegates than any other candidate outside of Bay country and his example is being followed by N. P. Olson and N. Michelson.

Kodak Service

We have just been appointed Agent for the Eastman Kodak Company and received our first direct shipment of Kodaks, Films and other Kodak supplies. We have always sold Kodaks because we think they are the best.

In the future we will be able to give you real Kodak Service. We can get you anything made by the Eastman Kodak Company on very short notice. Subscriptions for the magazine Kodakery taken.

Developing and Printing quickly done by experts. Enlargements a specialty.

Everything a Good Drug Store Should Have

65 No. 1

CENTRAL DRUGS
C. W. OLSEN PROP.
GRAYLING, MICH.

CRAWFORD AVALANCHE

O. P. SCHUMANN, Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION, RATES

One Year	$2.00
Six Months	1.00
Three Months	.50
Outside of Crawford County and Roscommon per year	$2.50

THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1926

AMERICANS IN EUROPE

Some indication of the prosperity of the American people may be had through the reports from Europe to the effect that the capitals and resorts of the old world are fairly teaming. Each year they are travelling more and more at home and abroad. They are learning about their neighbors in other states and about the people in other lands. And this travelling is giving them breadth and additional understanding. It is now the Europeans who, for various reasons, are staying at home.

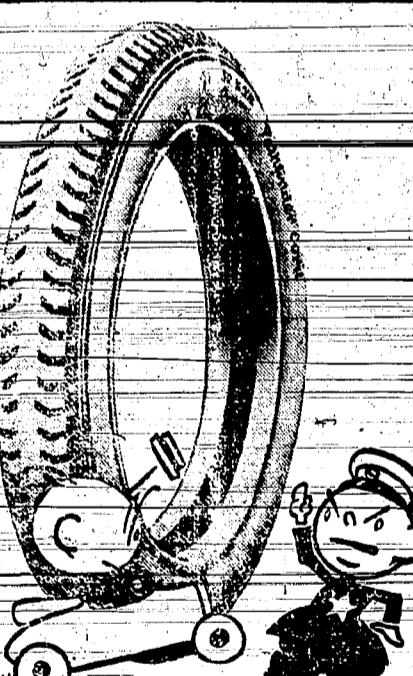

Most valuable of all, this travelling gives the average American an understanding of the real worth of himself. He is finding after all that his own country is the best in which to live, because of the greater opportunity for individual development. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred he comes back home better satisfied with the fact that he is an American.

A vacation would be all right if it were not for the first day or two at the office after you get back home.

Anatolia-Turkey has no theaters, night clubs or cabarets. Well, the traveling men always avoid Anatolia as a place to spend the week-end.

It is understood that Brazil will send its delegates home from Geneva at once and will not wait for the customary two years. Having found out that there is no Santa Claus at Geneva the Brazilians evidently feel that there is no use hanging around.

This migration of American tourists to Europe is significant in two ways. First it shows that the United States is really prosperous. These tourists are not all wealthy by any means. Many of them are teachers and other citizens in the modest walks or life. The fact that they can go and spend their money shows how place.

EVERY so often
SOMEBODY tells the world
AND wherever else
WHOLL listen to him
THAT the average American
IS extravagant
AND that he squanders
HIS money
MAYBE that's true
IN some parts
OF the country
BUT we don't think it APPLIES to Grayling
MOST folks here are THRIFTY
THEY want the most
FOR their money
AND that's certainly SENSIBLE
AND business-like
SO we aim to give 'em
GENUINE economy
IN everything we sell
WE don't keep anything
IN stock that

ISN'T a good buy
FOR instance
WE are offering
A 30x3½ Cord Tire
A PATHFINDER
NOW for $8.90
THE 29x4.40 Pathfinder
BALLOON for $11.50
AND other sizes
AT equally low prices
BUT price isn't
THE whole thing
PATHFINDERS give you
LONG trouble free service
PATHFINDERS possess
EVERY superior advantage
THAT quality materials
AND expert workmanship
CAN put into a tire
AT these prices
AND every tire we sell
IS backed by HONEST-TO-GOODNESS
SERVICE
WE thank you.

Alfred Hanson
Service Station

We Also Sell Goodyear Tires and Tires.

CRAWFORD AVALANCHE, GRAYLING, MICHIGAN

THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1926

Farm Bureau Notes

R. D. Bailey, Co. Agricultural Agent

Installs Milking Machine

Another of our progressive young farmers has moved ahead. Mr. John McGillis of County Line Farm, east of Roscommon, has installed a DeLaval milking machine.

John says that if he "snaps into it" he can milk the whole herd of 15 cows in 30 minutes; that the machine works good, and that his only kick is he did not put it in earlier in the spring.

If he had he could have got the spring work done nearer in time.

The milker is piped up to allow an increase in the herd. We believe that John is right in installing the machine and in planning on enlarging the herd. A man might just as well have enough cows to make a business of it.

The number of pure breeds in Mr. McGillis' herd is rapidly increasing.

The above is a type of news that your county agent delights to report. In the midst of a period of agricultural depression, while so many are in despair, and so many are leaving their farms, it is refreshing and heartening to see someone hang on and actually increase his farm operations.

They Attend Farm Women's Institute

Mrs. Hugo Schreiber Jr. and Mrs. Charles Corwin are in attendance at a week's program arranged for farm women at Michigan State College (Agricultural College).

Here they will see demonstrations, hear valuable lectures and concerts, as well as the beauty of the 80-acre campus (not surpassed in the United States) and become better acquainted with this wholesome and noble institution that is so near the needs and problems of the people.

This Farm Women's Institute lasts from July 24 to July 30, including closing on July 30 with the great annual summer event, "Farmers' Day."

Mr. Charles Corwin will drive down to participate in Farmers' Day and will be accompanied home by Mrs. Corwin and Mrs. Schreiber, County Agent, all to State College.

Your county agent, in common with the other county agents of the state, is instructed to be at Michigan State College (Agricultural College) to attend a meeting on Friday when plans will be formulated by which all county agents will get their people out to the National Dairy show to be held at the state fairgrounds in Detroit October 6 to 13. Thus, the agent will be out of town Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Gets Reward

Mr. George Annis has cut and put into the barn about 16 tons of split old alfalfa hay from his 9-acre field. He is reaping his reward for his faith in alfalfa and for the considerable amount of money and labor advanced and risked in buying Grimm alfalfa seed, lime and fertilizer. We are heartily glad to see this heavy out of hand if the weather is right there will be a bumper crop this year.

Not only does a farmer get two crops of alfalfa a year, but if he keeps June grass down by dragging as soon as he takes hay off, he will cut that field many years.

More than that, too, a farmer should remember that alfalfa is the most nutritious hay there is, almost hay and grain combined. He should remember too, the benefit that alfalfa is to his soil.

Science Comes to Farmers' Rescue

No longer do farmers have to helplessly endure some things that used to cause them losses. Science has found ways to prevent a lot of farmers' troubles.

Some farmers will never use these advanced methods. Some will. More and more they will come into common practice.

In testing soil last week we found a farmer's growing oats badly infested with smut. This disease utterly ruins the oat crop and could have been prevented at the cost of one cent a bushel by simple methods that I have repeatedly mailed to every farmer in the county.

Just Now

Just now the pests that need attention are cut worms, cabbage worms, striped cucumber beetle and onion maggot.

Skilled Men

Men (entomologists, bug specialists, insect specialists) who well know their business recommend the following for:

Cut Worms

Make poison bait by thoroughly mixing two level tablespoons of white arsenic or paris green with five pounds dry bran. Add five quarts water in which half a pint of cheap molasses has been mixed. Let stand all day. After supper scatter around stems of plants to be protected. This mash is poisonous. Young children, livestock and poultry should be kept away from it.

Hand picking of cutworms also helps. They usually conceal themselves near base of the plant which they have destroyed, and may be found curled up about an inch below surface of ground, within 3 to 4 inches of cut plant.

Common Cabbage Worm
Spray with arsenate of lead. Use one ounce lead arsenate paste to one gallon water to which add an inch cube cheap soap well dissolved. The soap makes spray stick on the waxy leaves.

Striped Cucumber Beetle

NOTICE

I will accept bids for coal for fuel for the court house and jail buildings up to and including August 10, 1926, reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

J. E. BOENMOYER,
Sheriff.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
The Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery.

Bessie Neiderman, plaintiff

vs.

Milton Neiderman, defendant

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery, at the Village of Grayling, in said county on the 10th day of July, A. D. 1926.

In this cause it appears from affidavit on file that the defendant, Milton Neiderman is not a resident of the state of Michigan, but resident of the state of Indiana.

On motion of Merle F. Nellist, plaintiff's attorney, it is ordered that the said defendant, Milton Neiderman, cause his appearance to be entered herein within six months from the date of this order and in case of his appearance that he cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on said plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by the said defendant.

And it is further ordered that within twenty days the said plaintiff cause a notice of this order to be published in the Crawford Avalanche, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said county and that said publication be continued therein at least once in each week for six weeks in succession, or that he cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on said plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by the said defendant.

And it is further ordered that within twenty days the said plaintiff cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on said plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by the said defendant.

GUY E. SMITH,
Circuit Judge.

MERLE F. NELLIST,
Attorney for Plaintiff, Grayling,
Michigan.

7-29-3

STATE OF MICHIGAN

The Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery.

Elizabeth Loper, plaintiff

vs.

Thomas Loper, defendant

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery, at the Village of Grayling, in said county on the 10th day of July, A. D. 1926.

In this cause it appears from affidavit on file that the defendant, Thomas Loper is not a resident of the state of Michigan, but a resident of the state of Ohio.

On motion of Merle F. Nellist, plaintiff's attorney, it is ordered that the said defendant, Thomas Loper cause his appearance to be entered herein, within three months from the date of this order and in case of his appearance that he cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on said plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by the said defendant.

And it is further ordered that within twenty days the said plaintiff cause a notice of this order to be published in the Crawford Avalanche, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said county and that said publication be continued therein at least once in each week for six weeks in succession, or that he cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on said plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by the said defendant.

And it is further ordered that within twenty days the said plaintiff cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on said plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by the said defendant.

GUY E. SMITH,
Circuit Judge.

MERLE F. NELLIST,
Attorney for Plaintiff, Grayling,
Michigan.

7-29-6

STATE OF MICHIGAN

The Probate Court for the County of Crawford.

At a session of said court, held at the probate office, in the village of Grayling, in said county, on the 19th day of July A. D. 1926.

Present: Hon. George Sorenson, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of Oscar Palmer, deceased.

Nellie E. Palmer, widow of said deceased having filed in said court her petition praying that said court adjudicate and determine who were at the time of his death the legal heirs of said deceased and entitled to inherit the real estate of which said deceased died seized.

It is ordered, that the sixteenth day of August A. D. 1926, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said probate office, he and is hereby appointed for the said petition.

It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Crawford Avalanche, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

GEORGE SORENSEN,
Judge of Probate.

A true copy.

GEORGE SORENSEN,
Judge of Probate.

7-22-3

ORDER ISSUED BY AUTHORITY OF ACT 230 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1925 PROHIBITING FISHING IN HOWE LAKE, CRAWFORD COUNTY, FOR A PERIOD OF THREE YEARS FROM SEPTEMBER 1, 1926.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

County of Ingham

The Director of Conservation having made a thorough investigation of fishing conditions in Howe lake, Crawford county recommends certain regulations.

Therefore, the Conservation Commission by authority of Act 230 of the Public Acts of 1925, hereby orders that for a period of three years from the first day of September, 1926 it shall be unlawful to take or attempt to take any kind of fish from the waters of Howe lake, Crawford county under penalties provided by Section 5 of Act 230 of the Public Acts of 1925.

Signed, sealed and ordered published this fifteenth day of June, 1926.

JOHN BAIRD,

Director of Conservation.

Conservation Commission by:

W. H. WALLACE,

Chairman.

EDGAR COCHRAN,

Secretary.

7-15-3

Bargains In Used Autos

NOW is the time to pick up a good used car at a reasonable price. Come in and look over the following list:

Ford Tudor
Ford Touring
Nash Four Touring
Nash Six Touring
Nash Six Touring, Glassmobile Top
Nash Victoria Coupe
Ford Truck, with Balsch ignition starter, water pump, metal cab, factory-made platform, irons, metal pockets. Jumbo transmission. All in A. condition.

T. E. Douglas

Nash Agency

Phone 1501

Big Business
Men and Proper Food

Why do the brainiest, keenest, business men eat good bread and milk for lunch? Because executives must be fit physically and

FRANK'S CLOSING OUT SALE

I will close out the remainder of my well selected stock, commencing JULY 28th, and continuing through the month of AUGUST.

HERE IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE.
Mind you this SALE will take in my whole stock.

READ THIS CAREFULLY:

HOSIERY BARGAINS

1 lot silk chiffon hose, $1.25 values,	79c
1 lot silk hose, assorted colors, 85c values, two pair	$1.25
1 lot silk hose, 50c values	40c
Boys' and Girls' ribbed hose, 35c val's	21c
1 lot Boys' and Girls' hose at	19c
Men's silk sox, two pair for	88c
Men's cotton sox, values 18c, 2 pr for	25c
Men's wool sox	19c
One lot sox, 35c values	24c

S H O E S

Hundreds of pairs of Ladies' Pumps
1 lot $4.50 values	$2.98
1 lot $5.00 and $5.50 values, for	3.99
1 lot one-strap pumps, all good styles	1.35
1 lot Men's Oxfords	3.45
Men's Oxfords, all late styles, $5.00 and $5.50 values, for	3.95
Men's dress shoes, $5.50 values for	3.49
1 lot high boots, $7.00 values, for	5.85
Boys' high shoes—Mother, here is your chance.
Boys' Tennis slippers	88c
Boys' Tennis shoes	$1.10
Men's work shoes, $3.50 and $4 values	2.89

MEN'S WEAR

Men's work shirts, 2 for	$1.25
Men's work shirts, $1.00 value for	89c
Men's dress shirts, $1.35 value for	99c
Men's dress shirts, $2.00 values for	$1.49
This should mean quick work.
Men's work pants	$1.69 and $1.89
First come first served.
Men's Union Suits	48c
Men's	89c
Heavy fleeced suits, $1.85 values	$1.29
Men's heavy sweaters, $5 values	2.99
Also light weight Sweaters for boys and men, for early fall wear. Up-to-the-minute.

Yours To Please
Frank Dreese

ELDORADO NUGGETS

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Kline and daughters, Helen and Elizabeth of Louisville, Ky., arrived Friday to spend their summer vacation at the home of Mrs. Kline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Crane.

Mr. and Mrs. George Potts of Royal Oak are spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Potts' daughter, Mrs. Russell A. Stevens.

Mrs. Charles Yakey of Detroit, accompanied by her brother Avery Babcock of Bear Lake, arrived Sunday for a short visit at the homes of their grandfather and uncle, J. H. and Fred Hartman.

Mrs. William Stevens and Mrs. Edwin S. Bartlett of Highland Park arrived Tuesday to visit at the home of their son and brother, Russell A. Stevens.

James F. Crane and Morton Kline were business callers in West Branch Saturday.

FRÉDERIC FLASHES

Albert Lewis is making an extensive business trip to New York City and other border cities for a period of three weeks.

The annual school meeting was a unanimous affair, re-electing E. A. Fitzgerald as treasurer.

Roadway Commissioner Erve Roe made great improvements on the De-De-De road, grading and graveling the big hill. All auto's go up on high now.

B. H. Horton is taking care of the Corsair-Lewis sheep ranch. He also reports good crops.

Rev. Crandall is doing some farming on the Karnes farm two miles west of here. It is claimed by many visitors that he has the best corn crop in the county.

Norman Fisher is counting ears on M-14 this season.

C. S. Barber made a business trip to Gaylord last week.

Mrs. James Howe and daughter Vivian of Jackson spent Monday at the home of Mrs. John Highien.

LOVELLS NEWS

Mrs. Eugene Parker and children of Saginaw spent a few days with Mrs.

Clarence Stillwagon.

North Ryker of Midland spent Sunday with his father, John Ryker.

Virginia Feldhauser, who spent a week with her grandmother at Grayling, is home again.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Laur of Midland spent Sunday at the fur farm.

Claude Smith of Bay City spent the week end with his wife at the Bill cottage.

There was a good attendance at the Lovells dance Thursday night.

Henry Martin's cousin over at Bluntsville had three fingers burned off his left hand on the Fourth when he accidentally put them into a crock full of home-made gin.

Whenever you ask Tom Milton, our local milkman, how things look, he always answers, "pretty blue."

"There's one thing sure," said Uncle Billy Gamester, when he learned that the President was going fishing. "He won't scare the fish by talking too much."

RICHMOND'S LIVER ELIXIR

Contains 25 percent of Alcohol

GREAT BLOOD and LIVER CORRECTOR

TRY IT!

DOSE: ONE TEASPOONFUL

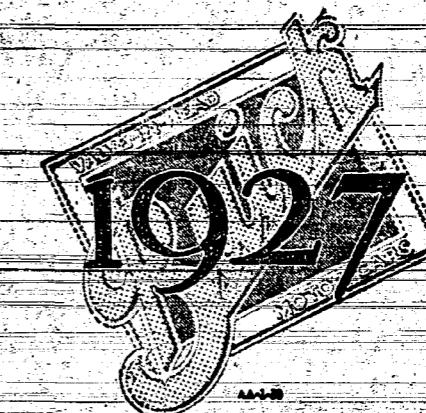

HAZELTIME & PERKINS DRUG CO

GRAND RAPIDS

Price 50 Cents

For Sale by
Mac & Gidley

The GREATEST BUICK EVER BUILT

SOON ON DISPLAY

Schoonover & Hanson
Grayling, Michigan

APPLE CROP MENACED BY RETURN OF MAGGOT

East Lansing, July 26.—The apple maggot is back again. Adult flies of this year's brood emerged in Ingham county on July 15, and word is being sent out from the Michigan State College that now is the time to make spray applications for control of this fruit pest.

The damage from apple maggot is done by the burrowing of the larvae in the flesh of the apple. Fruit infested with the maggot drops from the tree; the maggot gets into the soil and passes the winter in the resting stage. During June and July, the fly comes out ready to lay eggs in the apple. This is the time to apply the Quack grass named with WORST WEEDS.

The damage from apple maggot is done by the burrowing of the larvae in the flesh of the apple. Fruit infested with the maggot drops from the tree; the maggot gets into the soil and passes the winter in the resting stage. During June and July, the fly comes out ready to lay eggs in the apple. This is the time to apply the Quack grass named with WORST WEEDS.

The field should then be disced and cross-diced with discs set almost straight so as to cut sod into pieces. After drying, the quack grass (sod and roots) should be raked together and burned.

Every ten days or two weeks the field should be harrowed with spring-tooth harrow, or disced after rains which cake the surface. The next spring the field should be plowed as early as possible to depth of seven to nine inches and planted to a cultivated crop such as corn or beans. The cultivated crop should be given thorough cultivation and gone over with sharp hoes to get quack grass where ever it is in the rows.

Firestone GUM- DIPPED BALLOON PRICES

20% Less Than Year Ago!

Never before in our history as tire dealers have we been able to offer our customers such wonderful tire "buys" as right now. Due to the great volume of tire business coming direct from car owners throughout the country—the great Firestone factories have been, and are now, working at top speed building Gum-Dipped Tires in tremendous quantities. Manufacturing costs have been reduced—crude rubber prices have been reduced—and the savings passed on to car owners.

Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon Tires are now 20 per cent less than they were a year ago this time.

Take advantage of this exceptional opportunity to equip your car—right at the height of the summer season—with these long-mileage Gum-Dipped Tires at our new low prices. Buy your tires from us and you'll be sure of complete satisfaction—with the comfort, safety and long mileage that only Gum-Dipping can give.

Come in today. Don't take chances with your old tires.

OLDFIELD TIRES At These Reduced Prices

50x3 1/2, Feb. Cl.	67.80	29 x 4.40, Balloon	$11.20
50x3 1/2, Reg. Cl. Cord.	8.95	30 x 4.75	... 15.60
50x3 1/2, Extra Cl. Cord	8.95	29 x 4.95	... 16.40
51x4, S. S. Cord	15.75	30 x 5.25	... 18.15
52x4 1/2	23.85	31 x 5.25	... 19.05
53x5	25.50	33 x 6.00	... 24.10

Made In The Great Economical Firestone Factories and Carry the Standard Tire Guarantee

Nelson's Service Station
Hans R. Nelson, Prop. Earl W. Nelson, Mgr.

AMERICANS SHOULD PRODUCE THEIR OWN RUBBER... Firestone

BAREE

Son of Kazan

By JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

(© Doubleday, Page & Co.
WNU Service)

Chapter XVI

A strange humor possessed Carvel as he began the southward journey. He did not believe in omens, good or bad. Superstition had played a small part in his life, but he possessed both curiosity and a love for adventure, and his years of lonely wandering had developed in him a particularly clear mental vision of things, which in other words might be called singularly active imagination. He knew that some irresistible force was drawing Baree back into the south—that it was pulling him not only along a given line of the compass, but to an exact point in that line. For no reason in particular the situation began to interest him more and more, and as his time was valuable, and he had no fixed destination in view, he began to experiment. For the first two days he marked the dog's course by compass—it was due south. On the third morning Carvel purposely struck a course straight west. He noted quickly the change in Baree's restlessness at first, and after that the dejected manner in which he followed at his heels. Toward noon Carvel swung sharply to the south and east again, and almost immediately Baree regained his old eagerness, and ran ahead of his master.

After this, for many days, Carvel followed the trail of the dog. "Mebby I'm an idiot, but I don't apologize one evening. 'But it's a bit of fun, after all—an' I've got to hit the line of rail before I can get over to the mountains—so what's the difference? I'm gonna go long as you don't take me back to that chit at Lac Bain. Now, what the devil! Are you hitting for his trap-line to get even? If that's the case—"

He blew out a cloud of smoke from his pipe as he left Baree and Baree, with his head hot upon his forepaws, eyed him back.

A week later Baree answered Carvel's question by swinging westward to give a wide berth to Post Lac Bain. It was mid-afternoon when they crossed the trail along which Bush McTaggart's traps and deadfalls had been set. Baree did not even pause. He headed due south, traveling so fast that at times he was lost to Carvel's sight. A suppressed but intense excitement possessed him, and he whined whenever Carvel stopped to rest a way with his nose sniffing the wind out of the south. Springtime, the flowers, the earth turning green, the singing of birds, and the sweet breath in the air were bringing him back to that great Yesterday when he had belonged to Nepeese. In his unreasoning mind there existed no longer a winter. The long months of cold and hunger were gone; in the new visions that filled his brain they were forgotten. The birds and flowers and the blue skies had come back, and with them the Willow must surely have returned, and she was waiting for him now, just over there beyond that rim of green forest.

Something greater than mere curiosity began to take possession of Carvel. A whimsical humor became a fixed and deeper thought, an unreasoning anticipation that was accompanied by a certain thrill of subduced excitement. By the time they reached the old beaver-pond the mystery of the strange adventure had a firm hold on him. From Beagley's colony Baree led him to the creek along which Wakaroo, the black bear, had fished, and thence straight to the Gray Lagoon. It was early afternoon of a wonderful day. It was so still that the rippling waters of spring, singing in thousand rills and streams, filled the forests with a drone music. In the warm sun the crimson barks glowed like sun. In the open barks lay the nests of the birds. The factor from Lac Bain had killed Pierrot. She had told him the whole story. Her flight. Her plunge to what she had thought was certain death in the icy torrent of the chasm. Her miraculous escape from the waters, and how she was discovered, nearly dead, by Tuhon, the toothless old Cree whom Pierrot out of pity had allowed to hunt in part of his domain. He felt within himself the tragedy and the horror of the one terrible hour in which the sun had gone out of the world for the Willow, and in the flames he could see faithful old Tubon as he called on his last strength to bear Nepeese over the long miles that lay between the chasm and his cabin. He caught shifting visions of the weeks that followed. In that cabin weeks of hunger and of intense cold in which the Willow's life hung by a single thread. And at last, when the snows were deepest, Tubon had died. Carvel's fingers clenched in the strands of the Willow's braid. A deep breath rose out of his chest, and he said, "I'm going home."

"Tomorrow I will go to Lac Bain." For a moment Nepeese did not answer. She, too, was looking into the fire. Then she said:

"Tuhon meant to kill him when the spring came, and he could travel. When Tubon died I knew that it was I who must kill him. So I came with Tubon's gun. It was fresh loaded yesterday. And 'M'ste Jeem'—she looked up at him, a triumphant glow in her eyes as she added in whisper—"You will not go to Lac Bain. I have sent a messenger."

"A messenger?" "Yes, Ookimow Jeem—a messenger. Two days ago, I sent word that I had not died, but was here—waiting for him."

He had thrown off his pack. He stopped his ride beside it now, and then ran swiftly right across the open, into the dwarf balsams, and into a grassy path that had once been worn by the travel of feet. He ran until he was panting for breath, and then stopped and listened. He could hear nothing of Baree. But that old worn trail led on under the forest trees, and he followed it.

Close to the deep, dark pool in which he and the Willow had disappeared, Baree, too, had stopped. He could hear the rippling of water, and his eyes shone with a gleaming fire as he gazed for Nepeese. He expected to see her there, her slim white body shimmering in some dark shadow of overhanging spruce, or gleaming suddenly white as snow in one of the warm plashes of sunlight. His eyes sought out their old hiding places; the great split rock on the other side, the shelving banks under which they used to dive like otters, the spruce boughs that dipped down to the surface, and in the midst of which the Willow loved to screen her naked body while he searched the pool for her. And at last the realization was borne upon him that she was not there, that he had still farther to go.

He went on to the tepee. The little open space in which they had built their hidden wigwam was flooded with sunshine—that came through a break in the forest to the west. The tepee was still there. It did not seem very much changed to Baree. And rising from the ground in front of the tepee was what had come to him faintly on the still air—the smoke of a small fire. Over that fire was bending a person, and it old not strike Baree as amazing, or at all unexpected, that this person should have two great shining braids down her back. He whined, and at his whine the Person grew a little rigid, and turned slowly.

Even then it seemed quite the most natural thing in the world that it should be Nepeese, and none other. He had lost her yesterday. Today he had found her. And in answer to his words there came a sobbing cry, and the trees might have whispered why not tonight?

It was midnight when the big moon stood full above the little open in the forest. In the tepee the Willow was sleeping. In the pulsing shadow boughs from the fire slept Baree, and still further back in the edge of a spruce thicket slept Carvel. Dog and man were tired. They had traveled far and fast that day, and they heard no sound.

But they had traveled neither so far nor so fast as Bush McTaggart. Between sunrise and midnight he had come forty miles when he strode out into the clearing where Pierrot's cabin had stood. Twice from the edge of the forest he had called; and now when he found no answer, he stood under the light of the moon and listened. Nepeese was to be here waiting. He was tired, but exhaustion could not still the fire that burned in his blood. It had been blazing all day, and now—so near its realization and its triumph—the old passion was like a drunken wine in his veins. Some where near where he stood, Nepeese was waiting for him, waiting for him. Once again he called, his heart beating in a fierce anticipation as he listened. There was no answer. And then for a thrilling instant his breath stopped. He sniffed the air—and there it stood, his head hot upon his forepaws, eying him back.

He blew out a cloud of smoke from his pipe as he left Baree and Baree, with his head hot upon his forepaws, eyed him back.

A week later Baree answered Carvel's question by swinging westward to give a wide berth to Post Lac Bain. It was mid-afternoon when they crossed the trail along which Bush McTaggart's traps and deadfalls had been set. Baree did not even pause. He headed due south, traveling so fast that at times he was lost to Carvel's sight. A suppressed but intense excitement possessed him, and he whined whenever Carvel stopped to rest a way with his nose sniffing the wind out of the south. Springtime, the flowers, the earth turning green, the singing of birds, and the sweet breath in the air were bringing him back to that great Yesterday when he had belonged to Nepeese. In his unreasoning mind there existed no longer a winter. The long months of cold and hunger were gone; in the new visions that filled his brain they were forgotten. The birds and flowers and the blue skies had come back, and with them the Willow must surely have returned, and she was waiting for him now, just over there beyond that rim of green forest.

Something greater than mere curiosity began to take possession of Carvel. A whimsical humor became a fixed and deeper thought, an unreasoning anticipation that was accompanied by a certain thrill of subduced excitement. By the time they reached the old beaver-pond the mystery of the strange adventure had a firm hold on him. From Beagley's colony Baree led him to the creek along which Wakaroo, the black bear, had fished, and thence straight to the Gray Lagoon.

It was early afternoon of a wonderful day. It was so still that the rippling waters of spring, singing in thousand rills and streams, filled the forests with a drone music. In the warm sun the crimson barks glowed like sun. In the open barks lay the nests of the birds. The factor from Lac Bain had killed Pierrot. She had told him the whole story.

Her flight. Her plunge to what she had thought was certain death in the icy torrent of the chasm. Her miraculous escape from the waters, and how she was discovered, nearly dead, by Tuhon, the toothless old Cree whom Pierrot out of pity had allowed to hunt in part of his domain. He felt within himself the tragedy and the horror of the one terrible hour in which the sun had gone out of the world for the Willow, and in the flames he could see faithful old Tubon as he called on his last strength to bear Nepeese over the long miles that lay between the chasm and his cabin.

He caught shifting visions of the weeks that followed. In that cabin weeks of hunger and of intense cold in which the Willow's life hung by a single thread. And at last, when the snows were deepest, Tubon had died. Carvel's fingers clenched in the strands of the Willow's braid. A deep breath rose out of his chest, and he said, "I'm going home."

"Tomorrow I will go to Lac Bain." For a moment Nepeese did not answer. She, too, was looking into the fire. Then she said:

"Tuhon meant to kill him when the spring came, and he could travel. When Tubon died I knew that it was I who must kill him. So I came with Tubon's gun. It was fresh loaded yesterday. And 'M'ste Jeem'—she looked up at him, a triumphant glow in her eyes as she added in whisper—"You will not go to Lac Bain. I have sent a messenger."

"A messenger?" "Yes, Ookimow Jeem—a messenger. Two days ago, I sent word that I had not died, but was here—waiting for him."

He had thrown off his pack. He stopped his ride beside it now, and then ran swiftly

right across the open, into the dwarf balsams, and into a grassy path that had once been worn by the travel of feet. He ran until he was panting for breath, and then stopped and listened. He could hear nothing of Baree. But that old worn trail led on under the forest trees, and he followed it.

Close to the deep, dark pool in which he and the Willow had disappeared, Baree, too, had stopped. He could hear the rippling of water, and his eyes shone with a gleaming fire as he gazed for Nepeese. He expected to see her there, her slim white body shimmering in some dark shadow of overhanging spruce, or gleaming suddenly white as snow in one of the warm plashes of sunlight. His eyes sought out their old hiding places; the great split rock on the other side, the shelving banks under which they used to dive like otters, the spruce boughs that dipped down to the surface, and in the midst of which the Willow loved to screen her naked body while he searched the pool for her. And at last the realization was borne upon him that she was not there, that he had still farther to go.

He went on to the tepee. The little open space in which they had built their hidden wigwam was flooded with sunshine—that came through a break in the forest to the west. The tepee was still there. It did not seem very much changed to Baree. And rising from the ground in front of the tepee was what had come to him faintly on the still air—the smoke of a small fire. Over that fire was bending a person, and it old not strike Baree as amazing, or at all unexpected, that this person should have two great shining braids down her back. He whined, and at his whine the Person grew a little rigid, and turned slowly.

Even then it seemed quite the most natural thing in the world that it should be Nepeese, and none other. He had lost her yesterday. Today he had found her. And in answer to his words there came a sobbing cry, and the trees might have whispered why not tonight?

It was midnight when the big moon stood full above the little open in the forest. In the tepee the Willow was sleeping. In the pulsing shadow boughs from the fire slept Baree, and still further back in the edge of a spruce thicket slept Carvel. Dog and man were tired. They had traveled far and fast that day, and they heard no sound.

But they had traveled neither so far nor so fast as Bush McTaggart. Between sunrise and midnight he had come forty miles when he strode out into the clearing where Pierrot's cabin had stood. Twice from the edge of the forest he had called; and now when he found no answer, he stood under the light of the moon and listened. Nepeese was to be here waiting. He was tired, but exhaustion could not still the fire that burned in his blood. It had been blazing all day, and now—so near its realization and its triumph—the old passion was like a drunken wine in his veins. Some where near where he stood, Nepeese was waiting for him, waiting for him. Once again he called, his heart beating in a fierce anticipation as he listened. There was no answer. And then for a thrilling instant his breath stopped. He sniffed the air—and there it stood, his head hot upon his forepaws, eying him back.

He blew out a cloud of smoke from his pipe as he left Baree and Baree, with his head hot upon his forepaws, eyed him back.

A week later Baree answered Carvel's question by swinging westward to give a wide berth to Post Lac Bain. It was mid-afternoon when they crossed the trail along which Bush McTaggart's traps and deadfalls had been set. Baree did not even pause. He headed due south, traveling so fast that at times he was lost to Carvel's sight. A suppressed but intense excitement possessed him, and he whined whenever Carvel stopped to rest a way with his nose sniffing the wind out of the south. Springtime, the flowers, the earth turning green, the singing of birds, and the sweet breath in the air were bringing him back to that great Yesterday when he had belonged to Nepeese. In his unreasoning mind there existed no longer a winter. The long months of cold and hunger were gone; in the new visions that filled his brain they were forgotten. The birds and flowers and the blue skies had come back, and with them the Willow must surely have returned, and she was waiting for him now, just over there beyond that rim of green forest.

Something greater than mere curiosity began to take possession of Carvel. A whimsical humor became a fixed and deeper thought, an unreasoning anticipation that was accompanied by a certain thrill of subduced excitement. By the time they reached the old beaver-pond the mystery of the strange adventure had a firm hold on him. From Beagley's colony Baree led him to the creek along which Wakaroo, the black bear, had fished, and thence straight to the Gray Lagoon.

It was early afternoon of a wonderful day. It was so still that the rippling waters of spring, singing in thousand rills and streams, filled the forests with a drone music. In the warm sun the crimson barks glowed like sun. In the open barks lay the nests of the birds. The factor from Lac Bain had killed Pierrot. She had told him the whole story.

Her flight. Her plunge to what she had thought was certain death in the icy torrent of the chasm. Her miraculous escape from the waters, and how she was discovered, nearly dead, by Tuhon, the toothless old Cree whom Pierrot out of pity had allowed to hunt in part of his domain. He felt within himself the tragedy and the horror of the one terrible hour in which the sun had gone out of the world for the Willow, and in the flames he could see faithful old Tubon as he called on his last strength to bear Nepeese over the long miles that lay between the chasm and his cabin.

He caught shifting visions of the weeks that followed. In that cabin weeks of hunger and of intense cold in which the Willow's life hung by a single thread. And at last, when the snows were deepest, Tubon had died. Carvel's fingers clenched in the strands of the Willow's braid. A deep breath rose out of his chest, and he said, "I'm going home."

"Tomorrow I will go to Lac Bain." For a moment Nepeese did not answer. She, too, was looking into the fire. Then she said:

"Tuhon meant to kill him when the spring came, and he could travel. When Tubon died I knew that it was I who must kill him. So I came with Tubon's gun. It was fresh loaded yesterday. And 'M'ste Jeem'—she looked up at him, a triumphant glow in her eyes as she added in whisper—"You will not go to Lac Bain. I have sent a messenger."

"A messenger?" "Yes, Ookimow Jeem—a messenger. Two days ago, I sent word that I had not died, but was here—waiting for him."

He had thrown off his pack. He stopped his ride beside it now, and then ran swiftly

right across the open, into the dwarf balsams, and into a grassy path that had once been worn by the travel of feet. He ran until he was panting for breath, and then stopped and listened. He could hear nothing of Baree. But that old worn trail led on under the forest trees, and he followed it.

Close to the deep, dark pool in which he and the Willow had disappeared, Baree, too, had stopped. He could hear the rippling of water, and his eyes shone with a gleaming fire as he gazed for Nepeese. He expected to see her there, her slim white body shimmering in some dark shadow of overhanging spruce, or gleaming suddenly white as snow in one of the warm plashes of sunlight. His eyes sought out their old hiding places; the great split rock on the other side, the shelving banks under which they used to dive like otters, the spruce boughs that dipped down to the surface, and in the midst of which the Willow loved to screen her naked body while he searched the pool for her. And at last the realization was borne upon him that she was not there, that he had still farther to go.

He went on to the tepee. The little open space in which they had built their hidden wigwam was flooded with sunshine—that came through a break in the forest to the west. The tepee was still there. It did not seem very much changed to Baree. And rising from the ground in front of the tepee was what had come to him faintly on the still air—the smoke of a small fire. Over that fire was bending a person, and it old not strike Baree as amazing, or at all unexpected, that this person should have two great shining braids down her back. He whined, and at his whine the Person grew a little rigid, and turned slowly.

"Two days ago," said Carvel. "And from Lac Bain it is—"

"He will be here tomorrow," Nepeese answered him. "Tomorrow, as the sun goes down, he will enter the clearing. I know. My blood has been singing it all day. Tomorrow—tomorrow—for he will travel fast. Ookimow Jeem. Yes, he will come fast."

Carvel had bent his head. The soft tresses gripped in his fingers were crushed to his lips. The Willow, taking again into the fire, did not see. But she felt—and her soul was heated like the wings of a bird.

"Ookimow Jeem," she whispered—a breath, a flutter of the lips so soft that Carvel heard no sound.

It old Tubon had been there that night it is possible he would have read strange warnings in the winds that whispered now and then softly in the tree-tops. It was such a night, a night when the Red Gods whisper among themselves, a carnival of glory in which even the dipping shadows and the high stars seemed to quiver with the life of a potent language. It is possible that old Tubon with his ninety years behind him would have learned something, or that at least he would have suspected a thing which Carvel in his youth and confidence did not see. Tomorrow—he will come tomorrow. The Willow, exultant, had said that. But to old Tubon the trees might have whispered why not tonight?

It was midnight when the big moon stood full above the little open in the forest. In the tepee the Willow was sleeping. In the pulsing shadow boughs from the fire slept Baree, and still further back in the edge of a spruce thicket slept Carvel. Dog and man were tired. They had traveled far and fast that day, and they heard no sound.

But they had traveled neither so far nor so fast as Bush McTaggart. Between sunrise and midnight he had come forty miles when he strode out into the clearing where Pierrot's cabin had stood. Twice from the edge of the forest he had called; and now when he found no answer, he stood under the light of the moon and listened.

Truth had bent his head. The soft tresses gripped in his fingers were crushed to his lips. The Willow, taking again into the fire, did not see. But she felt—and her soul was heated like the wings of a bird.

"Ookimow Jeem," she whispered—a breath, a flutter of the lips so soft that Carvel heard no sound.

It old Tubon had been there that night it is possible he would have read strange warnings in the winds that whispered now and then softly in the tree-tops. It was such a night, a night when the Red Gods whisper among themselves, a carnival of glory

BOOKS

100 Popular Copyrights
By " Authors as Curwood, Grey, Kyne, Burroughs, Dixon.

Popular Price, 75c.

MAC & GIDLEY

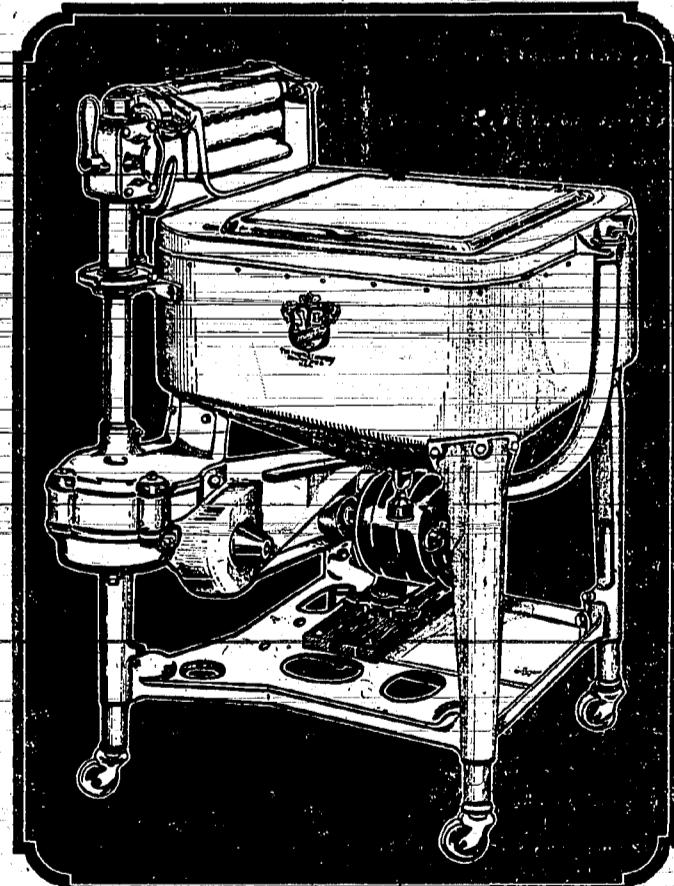

PHONE 18 The REXALL STORE

The sensible thing to do during warm weather is to get along with as little kitchen work as possible. Our Canned Goods stock will provide you with plenty and with the least possible effort.

Phone 25 H. Petersen Grocer

Maytag
Gyrafoam
Washer

One of these fine Washers in the home spells Economy, Comfort, Cleanliness and contentment.

EASY TERMS Come in and let us talk it over with you.

Grayling Electric Co.

CEDAR ST. PHONE 292

Subscribe for the Avalanche, a Newsy Paper

Local News

THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1928

Henry Trudo motored to Cedar Tuesday.
Oliver Cody of Detroit visited Grayling over Sunday.

New Victor records every Friday.
Central Drug Store.

Miss Helga Jorgenson is visiting friends in Lansing for a few days.

Mrs. Clarence Brown is spending the remainder of the week in Bay City.

Mayor J. Harry Nelson of Bay City is spending the week at the Failing farm.

Alton Jarmain left Saturday afternoon to spend a week with relatives in Bay City.

Jess Schoonover and Jerry Sherman were in Saginaw on business Wednesday.

Emerson Brown was home from Harbor Springs over Sunday visiting at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Roberts of Caro visited relatives and friends here Sunday and Monday.

Plan to spend Saturday, August 14, afternoon and evening at the high school gymnasium.

Saturday, July 21, Mr. H. M. Bell will be at the Gift Shop with Levine dresses and coats. Redson & Cooley.

Lost, a keystone Chapter watch fob. Finder please return to O. P. Schumann at Avalanche office.

Miss Helen Oliver of Bay City is visiting at the Failing farm, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood.

There will be a regular meeting of Grayling Chapter O. E. S. No. 83 next Wednesday evening, August 4.

Good tire patching outfit at a price you won't believe for Friday and Saturday at the S. B. Variety store.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Osmun of Cheboygan returned Tuesday after spending a few days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Eckefels.

C. E. Olivarius, accompanied by Edward Trudeau left for Lansing Tuesday night on business. Saturday they returned from a similar trip to Manistee.

Watch Sorenson Brothers window next week, when the beautiful bedroom set to be given away at St. Mary's church fair on August 14th, will be on exhibition.

These are going rapidly on the various articles that are to be given away on August 14th at St. Mary's church fair. Buy yours before they are all gone.

Dr. C. J. Hathaway, optometrist of Pontiac, will be in Grayling August 4, 5 and 6 to look after his optometrical practice. Plan to have your eye needs taken care of at that time.

Mrs. Edward Strehl and children and her mother-in-law, all of East Jordan visited in Grayling over Sunday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brown.

Peter F. Jorgenson and son Elmer left by motor Friday to visit Mrs. Jorgenson at the hospital in Ann Arbor, and their daughter Mrs. Ernest Duvall and family at Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Joan Ayotte, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryker, Mr. and Mrs. Gates and Mr. and Mrs. Reed, all of Bay City, and Peter Berthold of Flint visited Grayling friends over Sunday.

Hiats! To close out what is left of our straw and straw, and silk hats at $1.00. Come early at the Gift Shop. Redson & Cooley.

Mrs. Margaret Burton and brother Clayton Strachely expect to leave next Wednesday for Coldwater to attend a family reunion of the Strachely family. They expect to be gone for two weeks during which time they will visit among relatives and friends in that vicinity.

Guests of the Murray family at Murray Lodge on the AuSable include Miss Marjorie Flynn of Hastings on the Hudson, N. Y.; Mrs. T. H. Matthews of Louisville, Kentucky; Mr. Elmer Sooke, Dayton, Ohio, and Mr. E. S. Cowan of Bay City.

Mrs. John Zeder and son Jack returned Saturday from Mackinaw Island, where they had been enjoying a month's outing. They had as their guests over the week end, Mrs. William R. Neil and sons, Irving and Billy of Bay City, who have also been at the Island the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Waldemar Olson and daughters, Mary and Evelyn are in Brooklyn, N. Y., where Mrs. Olson went to be at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Carlton, who was to undergo a serious operation. Word was received by relatives that Mrs. Carlton passed away Saturday following the operation.

For the warm days of August, come to the Gift Shop and take advantage of our 20 per cent off on all our summer dresses. You will need at least one more. Redson & Cooley.

Grant Salisbury has recently completed a fine new summer cottage on the AuSable river in Shaw Park. It is very comfortably and conveniently arranged and is situated on a beautiful bend in the river, giving a fine view of that majestic stream from the porch of the cottage. All about the cottage are fine large trees which afford abundant shade. The river at this place is well adapted for either boat fishing or for wading.

Mr. Wescott of Detroit, father of Mrs. Charles Owen, has purchased the Arctic House farm in Maple Forest township. Mr. and Mrs. Owen will operate the farm. This is one of the best farms in Crawford county and has always yielded good productions. There are comfortable farm buildings as well as excellent land. Mr. H. was name to this region about 40 years ago, most of which time he has spent on this farm. We haven't learned definitely just what he intends to do, since his retirement from agricultural pursuits, but he and his family will bear the best wishes from their many Crawford county friends. We also wish good luck to the new owners.

To clear our racks for fall dresses and coats, we will give 20 per cent off on all dresses. Some bargains in wash silk and printed crepes at the Gift Shop. Redson & Cooley.

William Green was home from Detroit over Sunday.

Miss Kathryn Brown visited her brother Roy and friends in Bay City Sunday.

Hazel and William Kolka had their tonsils removed at Mercy hospital last week.

Mrs. Ben Landsberg returned home Friday from a couple of weeks visit in Detroit.

Mrs. Victor Smith left Tuesday of last week for Syracuse, N. Y. to visit her brother.

Mrs. George Johnson and son Charles of Birch Run spent the week visiting Mrs. Phil Moran.

Mose Blondin of Mackinaw spent the week end visiting his sister, Mrs. Daniel Hoseli and family.

One day only, Levine dresses and coats at the Gift Shop, Saturday July 31st. Redson & Cooley.

Fresh shipment of Lambert's and Whitman's candy every week.

Central Drug Store.

Charles S. Lindahl of South Bend, Ind., is spending a couple of weeks as a guest of his brother Al and family.

Ben Barnard, who has been employed in Grayling for several weeks, returned Saturday to his home in Bay City.

Misses Edward, Michael and Joseph O'Brien of Detroit are visiting the Raymond Callahan family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reynolds and son Dick visited the former's sister, Mrs. Guy Reid and family in Twinning Sunday.

Mrs. Louis Jenson returned Monday to her home in Ewen after a few days visit with her sister, Mrs. J. K. Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Adler Jorgenson motored to Detroit Monday to spend the week visiting their son Benten Jorgenson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Jarmain enjoyed a motor trip to Traverse City and other points of interest Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Herrick and son Gerald returned home Monday from a two week's vacation spent in Saginaw, Holly and Detroit.

Misses Marquitta, Eleanor and Georgianna Land left Tuesday afternoon for Cheboygan to spend three weeks visiting their grandparents.

Mrs. Hattie Bissonette and son Claude returned home last week after a couple of weeks vacation spent in Pinconning, Bay City and Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lewis entertained Mrs. Dwight Sturly of Pontiac for a couple of days last week. She returned to her home Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lindley of Detroit are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stropf at Lake Margrethe. They motored to Grayling Saturday.

Hooper Hanson has been absent from his position as cashier at the bank on account of an attack of acute indigestion. He is getting along nicely at this time.

Special prices on towels for Friday and Saturday, also on Stickite tire pitch. Limit, 4 to a customer. We don't dare tell you the price. Come in and get your share.

S. B. Variety Store.

Don Reynolds, who has been bookkeeper for the Grayling Electric Co. for the past year, has been promoted to the sales division and will devote his entire time along that line.

Miss Anna Swanson has accepted the position left vacant by Mr. Reynolds as bookkeeper. Don says that very few of the homes of Grayling are provided with such electrical appliances that even labor and afford so many conveniences. He says there is a great market here for electric washers, vacuum sweepers, electric refrigerators, electric stoves and other house old equipment that save labor, mean comfort and spell economy.

Ladies, your chance to select your fall silk and wool dresses, and at the same time see all the latest in dresses and coats, Saturday, July 31st, at the Gift Shop.

Redson & Cooley.

Mr. and Mrs. Roman Lietz and son George took a pleasant trip the last of the week, going by canoe down the beautiful AuSable on their way to Oscoda, the former old home of the Lietz.

They returned by rail Tuesday.

Mrs. A. Hermann, son Alfred and daughter Miss Volla, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Roberts and little daughter motored to Onaway Sunday.

Miss Mable Shippy went as far as Gaylord with them spending the day there.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gillett had as their guests for several days, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hiss of Bay City.

They returned home Wednesday, accompanied by Mrs. Gillett who will spend a few days with them at their cottage at Linwood.

Mrs. B. F. Clinkofstine and children motored to Mancelon Thursday to visit at the former's old home.

They returned Friday and were accompanied by Mrs. Clinkofstine's brother, Mr. Medlicott, who spent a few days at the cottage.

Miss Clarabelle Lovely of Bay City arrived Sunday to spend the remainder of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lovely at Lake Margrethe. She was accompanied home by her brother, Richard, also of Bay City, who spent the week end in Grayling.

Mrs. Marie Fischer of Compton, Calif. arrived Tuesday afternoon to visit her daughter Mrs. Carl Sorenson and family. Mrs. Fischer left California July 9th, but has been visiting enroute here, stopping at Madison, Wis., to visit her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Engley and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel W. Christianson and two sons of Flint and Miss Alice Hasty of Sterling visited Grayling friends and old neighbors in Beaver Creek township over the week end.

They were enroute to Mullet Lake on an outing. Mr. Christianson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Christianson of Flint, formerly of Beaver Creek and is employed by the Buick Motor company.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yoder and son Benny returned Tuesday morning from Detroit where they had been spending a few days visiting their daughter, Virginia, at a hospital there. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Bert Mitchell of Lansing, who will be here for a couple of weeks visit among old friends. Mrs. Mitchell has been in West Branch caring for her mother, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mitchell of Lansing, who will be here for a couple of weeks visit among old friends. Mrs. Mitchell has been in West Branch caring for her mother, who is ill.

We have been appointed the Exide Service Station for this locality, in addition to selling

EXIDE BATTERIES.

The right battery for your car.

Our service includes skilled repair work on every make of battery. You can rely on responsible advice and reasonable prices here.

We look forward to a call from you.

Eagle Point, on Lake Margrethe is a most desirable location for summer homes. Nine fine lots for sale at that place. See O. P. Schumann for particulars.

(Additional lots on last page)

FINCK'S

RED-BAR

OVERALLS

"Wear Like a Pig's Nose"

UNION MADE

Finck's

Union Made

Overalls

and

Jackets

We are offering Finck's heaviest weight Blue Denim, Red Bar Overalls at $2.00 a garment. Closing out 10 dozen of Finck's Overalls and Jackets at $1.75—regular $1.95 garments.

For Saturday Only we will include a Finck's 50c shop Cap, free, with every suit.

Buy an extra Cap now, Men! Choice of the house at $1.65—values $2.00 to $3.00.

Special Sale of Allen-A Chiffon Hose, a pure Japanese thread silk, extra long silk boot all the new colors, 88c per pair.

Grayling Mercantile Co.

The Quality Store

Grayling, Michigan Phone 1251

ICE CREAM

AND

BUTTER

We specialize in Ice Cream in many delicious flavors. Sold at the Creamery in any quantity, served at the following places daily:

The Sweet Shoppe

Try It Cafe

The City Restaurant

Homemade butter may be had at Creamery or the following stores:

H. Petersen, Grocery

R. D. Connine, Grocery

Remember it is the highest score butter to be had in town.

Grayling Creamery

ANNOUNCEMENT

To Auto Owners

We are prepared to do expert repairing on your car at Nelson's Service Station.

We Guarantee Perfect Workmanship

Clyde A. Peterson Henry G. Short

Play Golf

AT

Roscommon

The Roscommon Golf Club extends to the people of Grayling, the tourists and resorters, the privileges of its 9-hole course, located one-half mile south and a mile west of Roscommon, on Higgins lake gravel road.

The fairways and putting greens are in good playing condition, affording a snappy game. The course is rolling and attractively laid out. The course is open every day of the week so come and enjoy a game any time. Green fee, $1.00 a day.

ROSCOMMON GOLF CLUB,
D. E. Matheson, Secy.

The Most Wonderful Book in the World

MORE than nine million Bibles were sold or distributed in 1921.

Would you not love to have companion volumes to help you discover the treasures in that Wonderful Book?

SWEDENBORG

[1688-1772]

explained the Bible's practical application to daily life; how it describes the life hereafter; what the Bible parables mean when spiritually interpreted.

His theological works—as issued by himself—have been published by the Houghton Mifflin Co. in most modern translation from the original Latin, in the Routh Edition of 32 volumes.

The first twenty give the spiritual sense of Genesis and Exodus as understood in Heaven; and volumes 26, 27, 28 give likewise the spiritual sense of the Book of Revelation.

Volume 29, Marriage Love, views from the union of the Divine Love and the Divine Wisdom the Law of Sex throughout all creation. It shows the crown and jewel of the Christian Religion, the union of one with only. Price $2.00.

Volumes 30, 31, 32, contain a full statement of the True Christian Religion as revealed from Heaven. $3.00 the set.

The whole 32 volumes in half-morocco at $125; in buckram, $40.

The following are the best introductory books to the Revelations of SWEDENBORG. They are in large print, bound in buckram, and contain from 260 to 485 pages.

TITLES PRICE

HEAVEN AND HELL from things heard and seen $1.25

Angelic Wisdom Concerning—

THE DIVINE PROVIDENCE, which governs the Universe and the Heavens and the Hells, and the least as well as the greatest of all things in creation; and in the everyday life of man. $1.25

THE DIVINE LOVE AND WISDOM, the profoundest book and revelation concerning God and His Creation ever written, first published in Latin at Amsterdam 1763; along with this the "Intercourse between the Soul and the Body" first published in Latin at London 1769. $1.25

Price of all three at one time, including postage $2.75

Who Was Swedenborg?

Emanuel Swedenborg, the son of a bishop, was the great Swedish scientist, philosopher and theologian, whose vast range caused him to be the master of all scholars. Dr. Parker Gaudent recently named him the Universal Genius.

Officially connected, by appointment of the King, with the great mining industry of Sweden, he mastered all the sciences of his time, and wrote the most useful books on metallurgy, minerals, geology, astronomy, and the human brain.

His life search led to the human soul. How his spiritual senses were opened after he was 50 years of age, that he might reveal the human soul, the life after death, and the Bible itself, may be read in the above named, uplifting, useful books.

Send orders or inquiries to

B. A. WHITTEMORE, Agent
135 Bowdoin Street, Boston 9, Mass.

Agent's Life of Swedenborg sent postpaid for 10 cents; Heaven and Hell in paper covers for 30 cents; Gold Cards on Swedenborg for 10 cents; or all three for 40 cents.

LOCAL NEWS

CRAWFORD AVALANCHE

Fat broilers for sale. Jas. Mc-Donnell.

Clyde Hum of Detroit is in town on business.

Mrs. L. H. Quinton of Detroit is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Dunham and family.

Kenneth McLeod returned home yesterday morning from a ten days stay in Detroit.

Mrs. Catherine Buck of Detroit is visiting at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Buck.

Sheriff J. E. Bobenmoyer and Deputy Phil Quigley attended federal court in Bay City Tuesday.

Pure silk hose to the hem for $1.00
at the Gift Shop. All the new shades
Redson & Cooley.

Butter-Kist Pop Corn—a prize with
every carton during July and August,
only. Earl Hewitt, Sweet Shop, next
to Bank.

Do you try Houbigants Quelques Fleurs hand lotion? It is something very nice. Central Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Phillips of Saginaw, former residents of Grayling, visited old friends here over Sunday.

Supra and Mrs. B. E. Smith returned home Wednesday from Tecumseh.
Professor is driving a new Oakland.

Bennie Bugby and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Porter and son Eugene of Flint over Sunday.
Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Bugby are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Jerome of Pontiac are visiting old friends in Grayling, guests at the summer home of their son, Benjamin Jerome at Lake Margrethe.

Butter-Kist Pop Corn—a prize with
every carton during July and August,
only. Earl Hewitt, Sweet Shop, next
to Bank.

Miss Helen Schumann entertained a few friends at dinner Tuesday evening. The evening was spent at Col-len's Inn dancing.

Mrs. Amelia Goff returned Wednesday to Flint after visiting at the home of her son, Alvin Goff and family for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Musters returned to Detroit Wednesday after visiting for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Darveaux.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman French and son Gage of Lansing were guests at the home of George Schable Wednesday,
while enroute to Mackinaw.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joseph are entertaining Miss Eleanor Tull of London, Canada and Miss Ruth Ryan
of Detroit—motorized to Torch lake
Sunday.

Lake front cottage at Lake Margrethe for rent. Living room, dining room, kitchen, 4 bedrooms. Screened porches. A. E. Michelson, Grayling Phone 96-3R.

Mr. and Mrs. William Powell are enjoying a visit from their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jerald Powell and children of Detroit. Mr. Powell intends to join them in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henderson Woodson Jr. left Wednesday for their home in Salisbury, N. C. after spending several weeks as guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bauman.

Mrs. J. E. Fletcher and granddaughter, Beverly Hope Schable and nephew, Norman Smith of Mt. Clemens are spending a couple of days visiting her sister at Blanchard, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. William Howe and Mrs. Ernest Borchers and son Donald motorized over to East Tawas Saturday, accompanying Mrs. Herie's two sisters, Misses Geraldine and Helen home after a week's visit here.

A number of members of the local Rebekah lodge attended a meeting of District Association No. 29 at Cheboygan Tuesday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Herbert Gothro and Miss Margrethe Jensen were the delegates from the local order, and the following also attended: Mesdames C. Jonson, Chris King, Scott Wylie, Charles Tiffin, Sr., and Charles L. Smith. A lovely banquet was served at 6:00 o'clock by North Star Lodge No. 90 of Cheboygan, which was very much enjoyed. Those in attendance report a very pleasant meeting. The next summer session will be held at Alpena next year.

Miss Jennie Ingleby of "Wildwood" cottage, Lake Margrethe invited the ladies of the "It Suits Us" club to be her guests on Tuesday afternoon. The ladies enjoyed playing "500," Mrs.
Ambrose McClain, and Mrs. J. V.
Watts receiving the prizes for the highest and lowest scores respectively. The same club enjoyed an afternoon at Wildwood, it being a pot luck affair. On that afternoon
Mrs. Victor Smith and Mrs. Chas.
Fehr received prizes for "500." The ladies presented Miss Ingleby with a gift. Mrs. W. H. Strope, Miss Mary Watts and Mrs. J. V. Watts of Detroit were guests.

If you ever tried to count them, you won't be surprised to learn that the Ford people made a net profit of $526,441,951 in seven years. —Indianapolis News.

Mrs. Harold G. Jardin is leaving for Bay City this afternoon to spend a few days. Reginald Sheely and Ellsworth Lauriston are spending a week camping at Connie's grove.

Samuel Pollock and Ben Penseur of Detroit are guests at the Walt cottage at Lake Margrethe.

Shoppington Inn, Mac & Gidley, druggists and the City Restaurant have just hung out fine new electric signs.

Attend remnant sale Friday, July 30, from 3:00 to 8:00 P. M. at the stand on M-14 North. Mrs. Jas.
McDonnell.

The Salling Hansen Co. mill closed down Saturday for ten days to make needed repairs.

James Armstrong left Tuesday for Cass Lake, Minnesota to visit a sister, who resides there.

Pointed heel, at the Gift Shop.
Redson & Cooley.

Ernest Olson, who is employed at the Lake barber shop at Gaylord
spent the week end in Detroit.

Miss Ruth Bugby of Pinconning is visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank May.

Mrs. Walter Hemmingson and two daughters of Detroit are visiting at the home of Chris Hemmingson.

Butter-Kist Pop Corn—a prize with
every carton during July and August,
only. Earl Hewitt, Sweet Shop, next
to Bank.

Miss Ruth Bugby of Pinconning is visiting at the home of her uncle and
aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank May.

Ernest Olson, who is employed at
the Lake barber shop at Gaylord
spent the week end in Detroit.

Miss Ruth Bugby of Pinconning is
visiting at the home of her uncle and
aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank May.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Clark are enjoying a visit from the latter's sister,
Mrs. Ivory of Orion, Mich.

Ernest Olson, who is employed at
the Lake barber shop at Gaylord
spent the week end in Detroit.

Miss Ruth Bugby of Pinconning is
visiting at the home of her uncle and
aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank May.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Chalker and daughter, Miss Beth of Detroit are visiting at the home of the former's brother, Edwin S. Chalker, who accompanied them for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McLaughlin and family of Cleveland, Ohio visited their son at Lakewood camp, at Kyle lake
last week. At present Mr. and Mrs.
Cockaine of Cleveland are visiting at the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Herle Sorenson enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Samuelson and three children of Mrs.
of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Darveaux.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman French and son Gage of Lansing were guests at the home of George Schable Wednesday,
while enroute to Mackinaw.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joseph are entertaining Miss Eleanor Tull of London, Canada and Miss Ruth Ryan
of Detroit—motorized to Torch lake
Sunday.

Central Drug Store.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. A.
E. M. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert
Reagan entertained a large number of friends at a very delightful bridge party.
Therefore, the said

party, at the home of the former,
Eleven tables were filled for the game and most enjoyable evening by reason of the power of sale conspired. The hostesses invited the guests later in the evening to go to the across to the Reagan home where lunch was served. Both homes had been very attractively decorated with hollyhocks, nasturtiums and other flowers for the occasion. Mrs. Robert Gillett and A. J. Joseph held
the high scores for bridge.

The ladies of the "It Suits Us" club
were guests of Mrs. Fritz Kraus at Lake Margrethe Wednesday afternoon as follows: The west eighty-six feet
of the southeast quarter of lot five block four of Martha M. Brink's home last week. The time was spent playing "500." Miss Jennie Ingleby held the highest score in the village of Grayling,
and Mrs. W. H. Strope received the second prize. Mrs. Kraus, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Dell Walt, served refreshments late in the afternoon. Guests of the club included deceased
members. Mrs. J. V. Watts, Miss Mary
Watts MERLE E. NELLIST,
and Mrs. W. H. Strope, all of Detroit.
Attorney for Mortgage. 7-29-13

Central Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joseph are entertaining Miss Eleanor Tull of London, Canada and Miss Ruth Ryan
of Detroit—motorized to Torch lake
Sunday.

Central Drug Store.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. A.
E. M. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert
Reagan entertained a large number of
friends at a very delightful bridge party.
Therefore, the said

party, at the home of the former,
Eleven tables were filled for the game and most enjoyable evening by reason of the power of sale conspired. The hostesses invited the guests
later in the evening to go to the
across to the Reagan home where lunch was served. Both homes had
been very attractively decorated with hollyhocks, nasturtiums and other flowers for the occasion. Mrs. Robert Gillett and A. J. Joseph held
the high scores for bridge.

The ladies of the "It Suits Us" club
were guests of Mrs. Fritz Kraus at Lake Margrethe Wednesday afternoon as follows: The west eighty-six feet
of the southeast quarter of lot five
block four of Martha M. Brink's home last week. The time was spent playing "500." Miss Jennie Ingleby held the highest score in the village of Grayling,
and Mrs. W. H. Strope received the second prize. Mrs. Kraus, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Dell Walt,
served refreshments late in the afternoon. Guests of the club included deceased
members. Mrs. J. V. Watts, Miss Mary
Watts MERLE E. NELLIST,
and Mrs. W. H. Strope, all of Detroit.
Attorney for Mortgage. 7-29-13

Central Drug Store.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. A.
E. M. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert
Reagan entertained a large number of
friends at a very delightful bridge party.
Therefore, the said

party, at the home of the former,
Eleven tables were filled for the game and most enjoyable evening by reason of the power of sale conspired. The hostesses invited the guests
later in the evening to go to the
across to the Reagan home where lunch was served. Both homes had
been very attractively decorated with hollyhocks, nasturtiums and other flowers for the occasion. Mrs. Robert Gillett and A. J. Joseph held
the high scores for bridge.

The ladies of the "It Suits Us" club
were guests of Mrs. Fritz Kraus at Lake Margrethe Wednesday afternoon as follows: The west eighty-six feet
of the southeast quarter of lot five
block four of Martha M. Brink's home last week. The time was spent playing "500." Miss Jennie Ingleby held the highest score in the village of Grayling,
and Mrs. W. H. Strope received the second prize. Mrs. Kraus, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Dell Walt,
served refreshments late in the afternoon. Guests of the club included deceased
members. Mrs. J. V. Watts, Miss Mary
Watts MERLE E. NELLIST,
and Mrs. W. H. Strope, all of Detroit.
Attorney for Mortgage. 7-29-13

Central Drug Store.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. A.
E. M. and Mr